

the girlfriends game.

THE DOWN LOW:

Girlfriends was born over a cozy night in with a special group of gals that included wine, nostalgic 90's music and a trip down memory lane. Have you ever seen the way someone's face lights up with they get to revisit and tell a special memory or funny story from their past? Well, you're about to! (and, we think it's so magical that it inspired us to create this game!)

You can play it in a non-competitive way and use it as a table-talker at a girls night, bachelorette or weekend away. (We think the best reward is the belly laughter anyway!) Or you can rev up the competition and use our free downloadable score card to declare a winner.

There are two decks of cards in each game, 52 girlfriends mild cards (white faced) and 52 girlfriends wild cards (hot pink faced). So, depending on who is attending your ladies night - you can play with just the mild deck, or mix in both to spice up the vibes!

However you play, be sure to share all the juicy, hilarious, embarrassing details in your answers. The idea is to travel down memory lane and unleash your inner storyteller!

WHAT'S INCLUDED?

- 1 deck girlfriends mild
(52 x white face cards)

Think first kiss, first love, first heartbreak - true memory lane!

- 1 deck girlfriends wild
(52 x hot pink face cards)

Think walk of shame stories, sexual experiences and naughty rounds of never have I ever - these aren't to be played with your mother-in-law!

WAYS TO PLAY:

Table Talker:

This is our favourite way to play! In this version you really can make your own rules.

Use just the mild cards for a trip down memory lane, and both decks for a combination of memories and spicy stories.

Go around in a circle picking one card at a time.

Read the card aloud and answer to the group.

The idea is this: the belly laughter is in the details! Be sure to paint a picture and tell a story with your answer.

Don't have an answer? Can each player pass one card on to another victim? Decide as a group before you start!

Did you pick a never have I have ever card? This is a group answer card. If you 'have' done what the card is asking, you raise your hand (or drink if it's a cocktail party). The person who picked the card picks one person to tell their story, or they can tell their own.

Friendly Competition:

It's really a game of who has the best stories!
